

■ A WORD FROM THE EDITORS

Philologia is a peer-reviewed academic journal whose primary objective is to promote and advance research in the humanities. The journal comes out annually and is published by the University of Belgrade – Faculty of Philology, Serbia.

Philologia publishes original articles, critical essays, book reviews, interviews, conference reports grouped into the following sections: Linguistics, Applied Linguistics, Literary Studies, Cultural Studies, Translation Studies, Scientific Interviews, (Conference) Reports and Book Reviews. The Philologia journal is an Open Access journal. All previous issues are available at: www.philologia.org.rs. The journal is indexed in the following databases: DOAJ, EBSCO, ERIH PLUS and MLA Bibliography.

This year's issue of Philologia brings nine full articles in the fields of linguistics and literary studies. We hope you will find these papers inspirational and thought-provoking. The Editorial Board is endlessly obliged to the Reviewing and Advisory Council which includes both Serbian and international reviewers. We are thankful for more than two full decades of fruitful collaboration with all the colleagues who participated in the founding and maintenance of this journal. Together with reviewers, the Editorial Board keeps implementing strict criteria when selecting papers for publication. This is our contribution to raising the quality of science and research, both in Serbia and abroad. We are also very much indebted to our colleagues who sent the papers for publication. Without their trust in the work of the Editorial Board and Advisory Council, it would have been impossible to have this journal published.
